Tending Babies In Outback Districts

Sydney.
The Far West Children's Health Scheme is doing splendid work in the "outback" district of New South Wales.

This organisation has travelling baby health centres, specially fitted, and three qualified nurses are housed in railway carriages which serve as "centres".

Each car has a bedroom, kitchen, bathroom, blinds, sunshades, and leechest and gauzed windows and each nurse travels her own sections regularly. The itineraries occupies from four to five weeks' visits being made to Cobar, Bourke, Brewarrina, Coonamble, Walgett, Port Macquarie, Mungindi, Bogabilla, and other towns and villages are also provided on the line from Dundoo to Baraburra.

On each trip, the nurses cover 3,000 miles, and tend approximately 1,000 babies, hundreds of miles being covered by car to visit them. An aeroplane, however, will not fly to these remote districts because of the roughness of the roads.

NO GREETINGS AT STATION

Astonishment For Saarlanders

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Saarbrücken, Jan. 11. Three hundred Saarlanders from Osnabrück arriving here at ten o'clock on Friday morning were astonished at the coolness of the reception at the railway station as they had read that only on Thursday 58 voters from South America were acclaimed by thousands with wild demonstrations of joy. Several of the newcomers on Friday cried "Heil Hitler," but to their amazement nobody responded. The explanation turned out to be that the regional administration of the German Front, wishing to avoid anything that might cause party friction in a few days that remain before the vote, had ordered that from Friday morning onwards no further trains on arriving at Saarbrücken, bearing the voters would be greeted as heretofore with expressions of cordiality and welcome hitherto customary.

FINAL RESULT OF THE VOTE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Saarbrücken, Jan. 11. It now transpires that unforeseen technical difficulties will not permit the results of the Saar Plebiscite to be announced as soon as originally intended. The Plebiscite Commission declared on Friday night that the vote-counting would begin at 5 p.m. on Monday hence the final figures cannot be expected before Tuesday morning at the earliest and will probably be broadcast at eight o'clock.

DOUBTS OF GERMAN CIVIL SERVANTS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Saarbrücken, Jan. 11. Stressing that up to the present not a single case had occurred where the intervention of the International Police force was necessary, Major Cooke of the British General Staff stated at the Press reception on Friday that one of their chief duties would be to escort the lorries and trains conveying the polling urns to Saarbrücken. Major Cooke emphasized that the troops must not be regarded as a menace and that they would be used only if any situation arises with which the regular police is unable to cope.

INTERNATIONAL POLICE IN THE SAAR

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, Jan. 11. The Minister of the Interior, Herr Frick dispensed the doubts raised in the minds of the German civil servants in the Saar by the allegations of foreign and Press that their rights would not be respected in the event of the return of the Saar to the Reich, by declaring in letter to the German Civil Service that "naturally every German official will be received back in his Fatherland and all rights fully guaranteed."

THIS TIME FOR PLEASURE

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Dec. 23. Sir John Simon left for France the other day. After seeing MM. Flaminio and Laval in Paris, he will go straight on to the Riviera. This is only fourth trip across this year. Exactly a year ago he left on a visit to Rome—by way of France—which lasted until the first week in January. A week later he returned to Geneva. In September he attended the Assembly of the League of Nations.

At one time he was piling up a formidable record of foreign travel, mostly by air. The assistance of Mr. Anthony Eden, however, has done much to lighten his burden. A year ago, in answer to a question...

SAAR RUMOURS RAMPANT

Sharp Watch By Authorities

Berlin, Jan. 11.

Forestalling any League of Nations' announcement, an official Government statement says that on its re-incorporation into the Reich the Saar will be taken over in its entirety and united with the Palatinate under the leadership of Joseph Buerckel.

Alarming rumours are meanwhile circulating in Saarbrücken. They tell of an attempt to prevent the plebiscite being carried out and of the Socialist leader, Herr Braun, having appealed to the Plebiscite Commission to postpone the vote on the ground that frightful terrorism is rampant, but the appeal will be rejected and official charters intimate that they are confident of a peaceful conduct of the ballot.

Nevertheless, the utmost watchfulness is being maintained. For example, the Saar Nazis are forbidden to welcome the thousands of voters from Germany who arrived to-day.

The police received this contingent and shepherded them to billets.

TROOPS BORED

The foreign troops on duty in the Saar are frankly bored and are anxious to return home.

This is noticeably the case with British Tommies, whose quaint appraisals of life in the Saar entertain cafe chat.

One deprecated the Saar girls because they were "rigged up" the same as Southend girls two years ago.

A sergeant, amusedly watching the scowls exchanged between Nazi and Einheits Front, processions as they passed in a snow storm remarked: "If they aren't careful they'll be snowballing each other next."

The Saarlanders' principal objection to the British Tommies is their swagger canes. They assert that they do not mind the rifles, "but these canes are so superior."

SITUATION IN THE REICH

Explanation By Dr. Schacht

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, Jan. 11. Dr. Schacht granted the special correspondent of the "Paris Soir" an interview in which he explained several very important features of the present economic and financial situation in the Reich. The Reichsbank President said that the crisis of the whole position was that Germany for the time being is quite without reserves of foreign currencies, hence she is forced to prevent the Reichsmark from circulating abroad until the country is no longer living from hand to mouth on the current foreign trade. Schacht said that Germany's position would be hopeless unless the present rigorous control is maintained, but on the day when the general world economic situation changes and German debts would no longer constitute the difficult problem which they are now, the country would be freed from all self-imposed fetters. Schacht said that Germany's debts could only be paid off if all the present financial regulations were faithfully respected.

The Reichsbank President told the correspondent that an extension of the trade between France and Germany could do much to reduce world tension but Germany would not accept more credits which only intensified the evil. It is urgently necessary that the statesmen of both countries should come to an agreement about safety and armaments so that the atmosphere of mutual confidence could return to Europe, this being one of the prime necessities for the return of normal conditions.

AS IN SCHUBERT'S DAY

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Dec. 23. A traveller just returned from Vienna tells a story which shows that the Austrian capital still remains the city of Schubert and Strauss.

He went to a performance of "Turandot" at the Opera, at which Jan Klepura, the Polish tenor, had an enormous success. The audience, however, was not satisfied with acclaiming him in the theatre.

His admirers mobbed his car as he returned to his hotel. In the Bernauer Strasse, the Regent-karee, or Vienna, the crowd grew so menacingly enthusiastic that he had to turn and there to oblige. After singing three songs he was shown to proceed. Even then he had to alight, and the crowd of his admirers, who were waiting for him, would have followed him to his door.

"HAROLD TEEN"

At The Alhambra

"Harold Teen" now showing at the Alhambra is a picture of a comedy romance representing a composite study of Young America.

In it there are no less than five song hits all cleverly sung and put over.

An interesting fact in connection with the singing of these songs is that the two singers Rochelle and Patricia, have never before sung for the screen.

Each girl has filled a number of screen roles in her respective career but never before has the occasion arisen for either to sing, before the camera. Both possess good voices, and their singing is heard to good advantage in this picture.

There is a talented cast in "Harold Teen" the members of which represent the characters in Carl Ed's famous comic strip. Hal LeRoy, noted on the musical comedy stage, heads the list, which also include, besides Miss Hudson and Miss Ellis, Guy Kibbee and Hugh Herbert.

The story is the sequence to the adventures and antics of the famous Carl Ed comic-strip character "Harold Teen," which has always been a favourite everywhere with young and old. The picture is really much better than the comic papers suggest and one will leave the theatre with the catchy tunes in the ears and humming without knowing. Those who have not seen the picture should do so to-day and it can be recommended to those who have the blues to let this picture drive it away for them.

OUTCAST LADY

Spicy Programme At The Queen's

Based on the famous novel, The Green Hat, by Michael Arlen, "Outcast Lady" (now showing at the Queen's Theatre, with Constance Bennett and Herbert Marshall in the leading roles), is an excellently conceived, beautifully developed, and intensely entertaining screen story.

The theme is strong but simple and deals with the devotion of a woman who being deprived of the only man she loves be-spatters her own good name to protect that of the husband who married her, and who committed suicide on his wedding night.

Constance Bennett portrays well the role of such a woman and is ably supported by Herbert Marshall who has the difficult role of a man who is torn between love and duty. The supporting cast includes Hugh Williams, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Ralph Forbes, Elizabeth Allen, Henry Stephenson and Robert Lorraine who all do well in their respective roles.

Apart from offering the above which in itself is good entertainment, the Queen's Theatre is also showing several shorts which are indeed spicy in every sense of the word. The wedding of H.R.H. the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina is one of the features, and there is a cartoon entitled "Soda Squirt," as well as "Twice Two," a comedy with the famous laugh-makers, Laurel and Hardy who are never failing sources of amusement to many film-goers.

FACTS VERSUS INK

Hitler Caricatures

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Dec. 23.

The 1934 edition of "Hitler in World Caricature," produced by Herr Ernst ("Putzi") Hanfstangl, head of the Press section of the Nazi Foreign Office has been published.

The 130 cartoons of the year are almost without exception unfavourable to the Hitler regime. This does not perturb Herr Hanfstangl.

The cover design shows Herr Hitler looking down with amused tolerance at the efforts of the caricaturists.

The book is entitled "Facts versus Ink." Herr Hanfstangl in his preface says that it is designed to be "helpful to those German newspaper readers of both sexes who are inclined to be over-sensitive about unfriendly representations in the foreign Press."

THAT'S A GOOD GIRL

Coming To The King's

The big attraction at the King's Theatre on Thursday, "That's a Good Girl," is based upon the famous stage success which Jack Buchanan produced and starred in at the London Hippodrome.

The film is musical, as was the original, but with the exception of "Fancy Our Meeting" retained from the stage show, all the music in the picture was specially written.

Musical director of the film, and composer of the new music, is Philip Braham, author of "Limehouse Blues" and other famous popular numbers, a musician who can copy, compose, conduct and orchestrate—a most rare combination of accomplishments.

The story introduces one Jack Barrow, played by Jack Buchanan, an impecunious young man-about-town dunned by creditors and besieged by bailiffs, who suddenly hears that he can claim half a million pounds in the South of France from an aunt he has never seen.

The one stipulation which qualifies the bequest is that he must take with him, when he goes to claim the money, some attractive and distinguished young men, this being to protect Aunt Helen's ward, Moya, who also inherits half a million, from the attentions of fortune-hunting gigolos.

The only even vaguely respectable companions whom Jack can take are Timothy, and an opera singer, Berata, who only lets him go on the understanding that Jack does not let him look at another woman.

As soon as Moya gets to the South of France, he falls in love with Moya and from this fact, and the suspicions of Berata, the fun emerges. Jack Buchanan is supported by a first-class cast, including Elsie Randolph, who recreates the role she played in the stage version. Vera Pearce plays Berata; Garry Marsh is Francis Moray; William Kendall is blithely vacuous as Timothy; Dorothy Hyson makes an attractive Moya; Kate Cutler is the aunt whose word is law; Anthony Holmes and Frank Stanmore play other significant parts.

Admirers of Jack Buchanan (and they are legion), will be pleased to know that he dances in his new picture and sings in his own inimitable style. He is partnered on some occasions by Elsie Randolph.

The original stage treatment, was by Douglas Furber, and he has collaborated with Jack Buchanan and Donovan Redelby on the screen adaptation. In consequence of this collaboration of dramatic ability, production sense, and filmic imagination "That's a Good Girl" comes to the screen as a complete motion picture subject, entirely divorced from the stage technique in which it was first presented. There is constant movement in "That's a Good Girl" from the opening shot to the final fade-out.

Jack Buchanan himself directed the picture and his most apparent characteristic as a director is a painstaking and patient thoroughness which cause him to go on until he has extracted the maximum from the possibilities of the subject at his disposal.

Much of "That's a Good Girl" is set in the South of France, and to ensure complete authenticity in these scenes, and to add to the pictorial value of the film, a British and Dominions unit spent a considerable time at Antibes, with Jack Buchanan and all members of the cast.

Forty per cent. of the picture consists of exteriors, and many of these were made at Antibes within sight and sound of the Mediterranean, in some of the most beautiful grounds of the Cote d'Azur. Others were shot on a precipitous mountain road in a remote part of the Maritime Alps.

The interior shots are equally distinctive, however, outstanding in this respect being the mammoth opera sequence which took a week to make, and which includes a chorus of nearly sixty trained singers.

"For," he says, "nothing makes it easier to strike the vitriol-soaked pens out of the hands of those who belittle Herr Hitler and his work than to compare their caricatures with the facts. Thus in the face of the deeds of Adolf Hitler they will fall the victims of pitiless ridicule."

The caricatures are drawn from every corner of the globe—from Buenos Aires to London, and from Kansas City to Tokyo.

The book bears the imprimatur "This book has been examined and sanctioned by the Leader and Chancellor."

BELLE OF THE NINETIES

Showing At The King's

Theda Bara and most of the other motion picture vamps of yesterday were women about whom men wanted to dream. Mae West, now at the King's Theatre in her third Paramount starring film, "Belle of the Nineties," is a woman men like, because she is real.

Theda Bara and her sisters of the past two decades had to depend upon their melting eyes and languid manner to keep their male admirers interested. Mae West has a "change of pace" that involves these screen weapons, as well as a touch of hypnotism.

That is the way Stuart Holmes, who has played in motion pictures with all the major charmers of the past 22 years, has Miss West as his forerunners figured out. He has made a study of characteristics of the women with whom he has worked.

"There is nothing more interesting to me than to bring into focus the contrasting points of women who have made and are making screen history," Holmes explained.

"Sex appeal is the basis of understanding for all the stars who have left their impression in films. Theda Bara, to me the queen of vampires in the past, became the dream ideal of all men, those who worked with her personally and those who watched her on the screen.

"Her eyes had a dreamy quality with which she accentuated her languidness in front of the camera. Here was a come-hither call which she could express only in action."

"Miss West likewise has the fundamental advantage of sex but combines it with a "change of pace" from languidness to rapid-fire action. She uses her eyes, too, and in close association with her you can not help but feel that she is hypnotic. It is not an intentional quality, but it is there."

"From a purely analytical standpoint Miss West has added the quality of uncertainty, too. That is, she swaggers in with that trick walk and you do not know what to expect next. Miss Bara you could anticipate. Miss West you cannot. The latter has the vocal advantage of being able to hurl a question or an answer to accentuate her pantomime."

"Belle of the Nineties" is a story of the good old days of the Naughty Nineties, and presents Mae West as the "American Beauty" baroque queen.

Stuart Holmes is cast as the assistant to John Miljan, the South's most reckless gambler. Miljan, Roger Pryor and John Mack Brown are the men in her life in this film, in which Mae West introduces several typical songs.

ELMER AND ELSIE

Coming Shortly To The Queen's

After an absence of more than nine months, George Bancroft, brawny film favourite, returns to the screen in "Elmer and Elsie," Paramount's screen version of the play "Ladies First" by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly coming shortly to the Queen's Theatre.

In this picture which also features Frances Fuller, Roscoe Karns and George Barbier, Bancroft plays the part of a blustering, good-natured, braggart—a truck driver—who is totally immune to feminine influence and thoughts of ambition, until he meets Miss Fuller.

When they are married he determines to make a success of himself, but decides to decline any aid from his wife. He believes, with his boss, that "this is a man's world, and that woman's place is in the kitchen."

How his clever and engaging wife actually wins success for him, while permitting him to keep the illusion that he is a self-made man furnishes an entertaining and thoroughly human story for this film.

The screen play was written by Humphrey Pearson and the picture was directed by Gilbert Pratt.

Sir Miles Lampson, our High Commissioner in Egypt, who was married a couple of days ago, will not have a long honeymoon.

His leave is up next week. He will resume control of the Cairo Residency on January 9.

Mr. Maurice Peterson, who has handled a difficult situation so admirably during Sir Miles's absence, will return at the same time. Mr. Victor Kelly, the new Counsellor, is leaving for Cairo in a day or so.

There are also to be changes in the Egyptian Legation in London. Although the appointment of Hassan Bey Sabri as Minister here has not been officially announced, it can be regarded almost as a certainty.

AT THE STAR

Central Airport

Those who have not read or seen how commercial flying is worked, are strongly advised to pay a visit to the Star Theatre to-day when in the picture now showing "Central Airport" one will see a thrilling epic of the air which depicts the amazing daring of the intrepid pioneers of commercial flying.

The picture contains an unusually distinguished cast in support of Richard Barthelmess who is co-starred with Sally Eilers of such fame as "Bad Girl," "Over the Hill," "Dance Team."

Tom Brown who plays the part of a brother air pilot of Barthelmess give a very convincing bit of acting and was seen to advantage in that part. Others in the cast are Harold Huber, Grant Mitchell, Claire McDowell, Willard Robertson and Charles Selton, although now well established as leading screen character players, can boast of long theatrical experience on the stage in which they starred on Broadway. All in all, the picture is one of realistic work in connection with aviation in which dangers, duties and all else connected therewith are interwoven and with a plot that's all its own the picture is one that should not be missed.—O M O

GOVERNMENT ALIBI

For U. S. Naval Delegates

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Dec. 23.

Adml. Standley and his colleagues who have been representing the U.S.A. in the naval talks, have hopelessly missed any chance of getting back to America in time for Christmas.

In case the wives of any members of the delegation should be unimpressed by their pleas of "unavoidably detained," the Prime Minister is going to give a "chiff" to all the married members of the delegation.

This certificate will state solemnly that the British Government accepts full responsibility for the fact that they were unable to spend Christmas with their wives, and is very sorry.

Whose Idea Was It?
Mr. Norman Davis and Mr. Noel Field, of the State Department, have their wives with them, so the explanation concerns only five members of the delegation.

They are Adml. Standley himself, Cmdr. Schuurmann and Lt. Cmdr. Duncan (naval experts), Mr. Eugene Duncan, the "Far Eastern expert" of the State Department, and Mr. Robert Pell, also of the State Department.

It would be interesting to know whether the plan originated in the thoughtfulness of Mr. MacDonald or the prudence of one or more members of the delegation.

Rodin's monument to the Burgers of Calais recalls an occasion when the citizens did not welcome the English as in 1914.

There is also a prominent monument on the old Hotel de Ville to the Duc de Guise, the "Liberator of Calais," who caused that word to be engraved on Queen Mary's heart.

Richelieu, who fortified Calais against possible English attacks in the following century, has also his monument.

That its people have long and conservative memories is shown by their still preserving the name of the Rue Royale for their principal street.

GAOL FOR STUDENT

Wong Lam Kui, a 17-year old student was sentenced to two months' hard labour by Mr. Hamilton at Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday for the theft of a gold watch from Fung Keong, a 19-year-old shop fold, at a public football ground in Homantin last June.

Inspector Portallion, who prosecuted, stated that the defendant and the complainant were both playing football on June 4 when the complainant asked the defendant to put the gold watch, which he was wearing, in his basket until he had finished the game.

Before the game had concluded, however, the defendant, who had been playing goal-keeper, disappeared together with the basket and the watch.

It was not until during the New Year holidays that the complainant saw his watch again. He was looking into the window of a shop at No. 517, Shanghai Street, when he noticed a watch hanging up. The watch, which had previously been a round one, had been converted into an oblong one, but had the old face tied to the strap. The complainant, recognised the old face by a small stain between the hours of eleven and twelve.

He went inside the shop and looked at the watch and saw a small Chinese character which he had scratched inside. He asked the owner of the shop who had brought it in and when it was being called for. After waiting outside the shop for some time he saw the defendant come out with the watch, and had him arrested by District Watchman No. 31.

The watch had undergone a complete change, the gold case having been removed and a nickel one put in its place.

The defendant pleaded not guilty, and stated that his father had given it to him to get changed but his father denied this.

BIRCH FOR SNATCHER

A sentence of four months' hard labour and 12 strokes of the birch was imposed by Mr. Wynne Jones at Central Magistracy on Saturday on Li Sui Sang, a 26-year-old unemployed who was charged with the theft of leather hand-bag containing one ring valued at $3, and $9.43 in local currency.

According to Sub-Inspector Mills, at about 9.40 p.m. on Friday night the complainant, Ho Mun Fui, an actress employed at the Tai Ping Theatre, was just about to board a train in West Kowloon Road Station, when she was snatched from her hand.

She raised an alarm and with her servant pursued the snatchers through West Kowloon Road, Queens Road, Central, where she was arrested by Chinese Police. The bag was valued at $12.

TRAINING GALLOPS

Estover Does Fast Six Furlongs

(By "Morning Dew")

Quite a number of ponies were checked on Saturday, when there was a distinct absence of fast work. Estover, a griffin belonging to Messrs. Lewis and Tinson, went over six furlongs in 1.36.3, which is pretty good going, considering the last half-mile was in 1.03. Pacific Hall, Flybnight, and Bold Colonel were others which moved well.

Among the subscription-griffins there were quite a number of good gallops, a good finish being put in by Invincible Knight at the end of a mile and a half gallop.

Some of the Australians moved impressively, particularly Got That, whose time, however, is on the slow side. We shall hear more of this pony yet!

SOUTH CHINA

Membership Campaign

"Go out and do your utmost in the membership campaign," said the Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall, C.M.G., L.L.D., to a large gathering of members of the South China Athletic Association at a party held at their new pavilion at Caroline Hill on Saturday night to celebrate the starting of the membership campaign.

Mr. Chan Ping Au, the Secretary, presided, and he asked the President, Mr. Lo Yuk Tong, to enlighten the members with the reasons of giving the party, after which the chairman, Mr. O. W. Luke made a brief speech.

This was followed by The Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall who said:

"I have been asked to speak a few encouraging words to you, but, before doing so, I would like you to know that I have cancelled some very important engagements to attend this function to show you my enthusiasm and support for the membership campaign."

"The improvement of the Association has been very fast, and I think it is needless to remind you of the numerous deeds of charity the Association has done since its foundation. Its history is the best of any association in the whole of China, and I am sure its membership also is the highest."

Activities Lessened

"Owing to the depression the activities of the Association had to be lessened, thus the charitable acts, that should have been done, ceased. This is greatly regrettable, and it is a pity that we could not go on as we did in previous years."

"Last year the campaign was undertaken by 16 teams, but this year it has been decided to add four more. So before presenting the leaders with the flags I want to ask them to take an optimistic view of the task which has been bestowed upon their shoulders, and always to remember that the future is bright and not dark. Do your utmost and do not fail in the trust which the Association gives you. I know it is difficult to do anything now-a-days, but go on trying, overcome all difficulties and you will reach your goal."

"Everyone of you know me and I am sure you all would like to do me a favour, so this is what I want you to do. Go out and do your utmost in the membership campaign."

Fireworks display

After the presentation of the flags, the Kwong Man Loong company gave a display of fireworks on the playing field after which a film showing "at home" of the Association some six years ago was screened.

Dance music was supplied by the Blue Rhythm Dance Orchestra, which was conducted by Mr. W. J. Lee.

DIOCESAN GIRLS' SCHOOL

Brilliant Drill Display

Over $800, which will go to charity, were collected from the hundreds of visitors, including the students' parents and friends, to the drill and dancing display by the pupils of the Diocesan Girls' School held at their playground on Saturday afternoon. The display was a brilliant success, the students rendering highly skillful demonstrations of gymnastics, drill and dancing.

The opening item on the programme was three short episodes comprising singing and dancing by the kindergarten. Students of class 3 then gave an excellent marching display which was followed by three English country dances presented by class 4.

An old English dance was performed by four students dressed in Victorian costumes. The Misses P. Crofton and Sheila Barros acted as the gentlemen while the Misses Kitty Delgado and Phyllis Lang were the ladies.

A Dutch Dance performed by little Betty Lee was the most appealing item and she was given a great ovation at the conclusion.

Just before the finale, Nancy Banker and Maria De Boza presented a Tap Dance, which was followed by a display of marching in which the letters "D.G.S." were formed by blue umbrellas held by the students.

Miss Lee was responsible for the gymnastic drill and marches and the dances were under the direction of Mrs. McLellan.

Amongst those present were the Honourable Dr. R. H. Kotewall, C.M.G., L.L.D., and Mr. Kotewall.

CORRESPONDENCE

[All letters intended for publication must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer, not for publication, unless so desired, but as evidence of good faith.—Ed.]

(To the Editor, "Hong Kong Daily Press")

TOO MANY UNEMPLOYED ALREADY

Sir,—May I through the medium of your correspondence column express my view contradictory to Mr. Lee Keang Chee's letter of Jan. 10, on School Subjects.

I quite agree that Hong Kong, because of its importance as a port for foreign commerce needs many business experts such as typists, stenographers, and bookkeepers. Who can forget that at one time when trade was at its height school boys of Class 5 or 4 were called upon to play an active part in business firms? But times are not what they were. Trade depression has made commerce so dull that every business concern finds that it is overstaffed. The retrenchment policy to curtail unnecessary expenditure in order to cope with the present financial stringency seems the only means for the aged firms to struggle along. Hence results an energetic reduction of staff everywhere.

This is the time when experienced clerks are confronted with the "job" problem. This is the time when expert typists, stenographers, bookkeepers, cash here and there hoping to find the smallest gap to fill in. We do not see it a necessity then that the education authorities should take the responsibility of "manufacturing" goods of this sort—typists, stenographers, and bookkeepers—to meet the dull market. For to educate more students to become typing clerks etc. is to increase the number of unemployed. Isn't it?

Education is really a "big" problem to touch upon. It has its "object," "utility," "environment," etc. to consider. So would it not be a bit selfish to say that Trigonometry, Physics, Chemistry and Science are absolutely useless just because the student hates them, and that Typewriting, Shorthand, and Bookkeeping are very useful just because he likes them?

In conclusion, I beg to say that had Mr. Lee's letter been written 10 years ago it would have met with favourable support. This is an age when Chinese students are no longer deceived with the "white collar" complex. See how energetically they work with sleeves up to elbows at the Junior Technical School!

UNUSUAL SCENES IN THE SAAR

QUEUES AT POLLING BOOTHS

Peace Reigns In Spite Of Rumours

Saarbrücken, Jan. 12. Fears of violence and bloodshed in the Saar, the power-chest of European politics, which are growing daily as the hour for the plebiscite nears, are keeping all Europe on tenterhooks.

Under the guard of the special international force drafted to the Saar to damp the chances of an explosion which would rock the Continent, more than 500,000 Saarlanders will go to the poll tomorrow to decide the destiny of their homeland.

The Saarlanders are overwhelmingly German and, despite the commission of acts by the Nazi party tending to alienate the Catholic majority, it is confidently expected that their reply will be: "The Saar is German and must revert to the Fatherland."

Reuter.

NO DISORDER ANTICIPATED

London, Jan. 12. Reports from Saarbrücken indicate that, although there is naturally considerable excitement in view of to-morrow's fateful plebiscite, no serious disorder has occurred and the authorities have every hope that the careful arrangements made will enable the event to pass off without any undue exuberance. Ballot boxes will be escorted into Saarbrücken when voting is ended on Sunday night and Monday morning. The count begins on Monday evening and the result will be made known about 8 o'clock that night.

The Saar territory consists of 790 square miles and has a population of about 100,000. It was entrusted under the Versailles Treaty to the League of Nations Commission for a period of 15 years, which has now expired, and the choice before voters is whether the territory shall be returned to Germany, shall be given to France or shall continue under the League for a further period.

LEAGUE TO DECIDE

It rests with the League to make a decision as to the territory's future in whole or in part and the League is now in session at Geneva for that purpose. The members of the League Council generally evidently share the desire which the British delegates undoubtedly feel that their part in the Saar settlement shall be completed with the least possible delay. It is strongly hoped that the matter will be got out of the way by the end of next week. Incidentally it was partly to accelerate matters that the British Government took the initiative in the enquiry as to whether the German Government proposed for this special occasion to be represented on the League Council. The German Government felt unable to take such a course but at least the experts will be in Geneva and close contact between the League and German authorities, maintained on every occasion during the past year when the Saar question has been considered, will of course continue.

On Sir John Simon's suggestion, the Council held a special session to-day when the Committee of Three, presided over by Baron Aloisi, which succeeded a few weeks ago in producing an agreed report with French and German experts on the technical issues connected with the plebiscite and subsequent procedure, was asked to make its special knowledge available to the Council when the decision has to be reached.

LEAGUE REFORM

The "Times" expresses general hope of a prompt League decision as clearcut as voting permits so that the way will be opened for the visit of French Ministers to London anticipated between January 20 and 25 and consideration of other large European issues.

It goes on to enquire when Germany may be expected to take her place once more among the constructive forces of international life and in regard to the German suggestion that she would only be ready to rejoin the reformed League, the journal remarks: "The League most certainly cannot be reformed—supposing it to be in need of reform—by dictation from without. Any country which genuinely desires betterment of the League of Nations can best serve the cause of the League and of itself by participation and persuasion from within."

MANDATE TO BE PROLONGED

League Appeal To Saar Population

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press").
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, January 13, 4.30 a.m.)

Geneva, Jan. 12. The non-public session of the League of Nations Council, convened to deal with Saar matters, decided that the mandate of the Saar Commission be prolonged so that it shall remain for the time being in activity with plenary powers to make proposals for the final decision of the League of Nations based on the plebiscite result.

Another matter discussed at the Council's session was the preservation of peace and order in the Saar between the day of the plebiscite and the time following, until the final decision of the League of Nations is announced.

It was decided to issue an appeal to the Saar population enjoining the maintenance of the strictest discipline. The text of the appeal has been drawn up by three members of the Saar committee, viz.: Abolst, Cantile, and Lopez Olivan, and it urged the people of the Saar "to show themselves conscious of the significance of the plebiscite by maintaining quiet and dignity" and expressed the hope that after the ballot the population will calmly await the League of Nations decision which will be reached with minimum delay.

AIRWOMAN CROSSES THE PACIFIC

Lands Fresh And Smiling After 18 Hours

Oakland, Jan. 12. Miss Amelia Earhart, the American airwoman, landed here at 9.31 p.m. G.M.T. on the first solo flight from Honolulu to California.

Ten lives have been lost in attempting the perilous 2,400-mile ocean trip. The flight was made in the face of strong opposition by the United States Navy owing to the recent disaster to the airman Uim.

The airwoman's husband, Mr. George Putnam, watched his wife taking off from Honolulu with deep anxiety and, wiping the perspiration from his brow, he said: "I am worried rather than have the baby."

Despite long delay in ending the flight owing to fog on the California coast, which occasioned anxiety for her safety, Miss Earhart accomplished the flight in 18 hours 16 minutes and landed fresh and smiling amid a mighty cheer from a crowd of five thousand people. She said that she was tired, but anxiety in regard to her safety was unnecessary as she had petrol sufficient for several hours.

EARLY MESSAGES

Honolulu, Jan. 12. A wireless message from Miss Amelia Earhart, after 44 hours, says she is flying through fog at an altitude of 3,000 feet, that the weather's is favourable, and that she expects to reach Oakland, California, in the afternoon.

A cable from Oakland stated that the steamer Malliko, half way between Honolulu and San Francisco, had received a wireless message from the airwoman estimating her speed at 182 miles an hour and saying she may land at Los Angeles instead of Oakland owing to a rainstorm which was sweeping down the coast.

PREPARING FOR MEETING

Preliminary Talks At Geneva

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)
Geneva, Jan. 11.

Unofficial conversations among the delegates to the League of Nations Council are now in full swing in preparation for the real business that sets in on Tuesday. These preliminary deliberations promise to clear the atmosphere and to prepare the way for the real progress. One of the chief topics of discussion is the future of disarmament, now that the settlement of the Saar problem has been brought within measurable distance.

Both in French and British circles, it is stated that the British delegates intend once again to bring forward the plans advanced by Lord Privy Seal Eden in December and will insist that those States that signed the Five-Power declaration on December 11, 1932 should again assemble in Geneva to discuss the realisation of the equality rights fundamentally conceded to Germany on December 11, 1932. The intention of Great Britain and France is stated to be to reach some preliminary agreement at Geneva and to take advantage of the forthcoming visit of the French Minister to London to draw up definite plans for a conference to which Germany will be invited by the British Government.

Quantico, Virginia, Jan. 13.

The assertion that communist propaganda directed by first class bribe was being spread in the United States Navy was made by Rear-Admiral Woodward, former personal representative of Mr. Hoover in Nicaragua, addressing the officers' mess and marine barracks here.

He said that communist activities in the Navy began in 1930 and now it was exceedingly well organized and trained. Agitators were constantly following the movements of ships.

FRENCH STATESMEN'S LONDON VISIT

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, January 13, 4.30 a.m.)

Geneva, Jan. 12. Sir John Simon told English pressmen on Saturday night that Flandin and Laval will visit London between January 24 and 28, not on January 20 as previously stated. Well-informed British circles interpret this change of programme to mean that under no circumstances will there be a second extraordinary meeting of the League's Council to arrive at a decision regarding the Saar's fate based on the results of the plebiscite, but that, if necessary, the present session will be prolonged a few days so that the Saar question must be once and for all disposed of.

WEEK-END CRICKET RESULTS

Champions Draw With Indians

A mild surprise was caused during the week-end when the Army, playing at home to the University, lost by 6 runs. E. L. Gosano was chiefly responsible for his team's victory, scoring 49 runs and taking 4 wickets for 38 runs.

The Hong Kong Cricket Club entertained the Indian Recreation Club in a drawn game.

A. P. Pereira, taking 6 wickets for 33 runs with A. P. Guterres claiming 4 victims for 6 runs were largely responsible for the Club de Recreio defeating the Civil Service by 78 runs.

In the only other senior league match the Craigenower and the Navy played a drawn game.

In the Junior Division, the Indian Recreation Club defeated the Hong Kong Cricket Club by 2 wickets, while the R.A.S.C. secured their sixth victory in the seven league games they have so far played, when they beat the University by 139 runs. The Craigenower lost to the Navy by seven wickets and the Kowloon Cricket Club scored an easy victory over the Police by 104 runs. The Civil Service and the Club de Recreio shared the points at the Valley.

WEEK-END FOOTBALL

Fight Occurs In Third Division Game

The Interport Trial yesterday produced football of a high standard at times and certainly gave the Interport Selection Committee some guiding facts. The Chinese forwards playing for the Whites were disappointing, possibly due to their encounter in the match against the Police the previous day. The Whites lost by four goals.

South China "B" returned to winning form by beating the Fusiliers by five goals to three.

Football had its share of thrills on Saturday. The Police-South China "A" match produced plenty in the matter of good, exciting and exhilarating football. South China was certainly lucky to have shared the points as from the run of the play the Police deserved the points.

South China "B" was completely surprised by the Gunners who put up such a creditable display that there was no doubt as to their superiority over the Chinese.

The Saints played a fine game to defeat E. Lanes by the odd goal in three although without the services of Ward. The Club accounted for the Athletic by the odd goal in three and Kowloon and Fusiliers shared four goals between them.

A most disgraceful scene was witnessed in the third division encounter between the R.A.F. and the Radio in which the game was abandoned ten minutes before the end. Following a fight between Tavares and Eyerson whom the referee ordered off the field, the Radio players set upon Eyerson and all that the aviator could do was to run away to be eventually overhauled and given a good beating. Despite the referee's endeavours the game had to be stopped.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES

INTERPORT TRIAL

A large crowd was present on the Kowloon ground yesterday when the first Interport Trial game was held. Due to injuries sustained in Saturday's games many changes were made. The Blues won by four goals to nil but the score does not indicate the true run of the play. The Whites had as much of the play as the Blues but poor shooting, coupled with too much short passing nullified their efforts.

The football played was of a high standard at times and the quite up to competitive football. Plenty of thrills and excitement were provided especially towards the closing stages when both goals seemed to bear a charmed life what with shots coming from every angle only to strike the bars and rebound into play.

Mrs. J. F. Kayll of the U.S.R.C. won the Colony Ladies' Lawn Tennis Championship on Saturday when she defeated Miss M. Griffiths, of the K.C.C. by 6-1, 6-0.

The teams were: Whites—Durham; Swain, Morrison; Dudley, A. V. Gosano, Elms; Tso, Tam, Fung Ridley and Baldry. Blues—Wong; Li, Pile (C); Ken-nigan, Pardoe, Parker; Gosano (B), Higgins, Howe, Elliot and Bickford.

SENIOR DIVISION

South China "B" regained their winning form yesterday when they beat the Fusiliers by five goals to three, scoring all their goals in the first half. The soldiers rallied towards the closing stages and by dint of clever play scored three quick goals.

The game was somewhat marred by the dangerous tactics used by the Chinese. Despite warning given against him, Yeung Siu Yick repeated his action and was given marching orders.

From the commencement South China attacked and after a pretty solo run through, Yeung Siu Yick beat Rowlands with a beautiful cross shot to open the score. Tsang Kai Ki, Lai Siu Wing (2) and Lee Shek Yau were the other scorers. In the second half the Fusiliers rallied and towards the last fifteen minutes, Roberts netted their first goal, followed immediately by Talbot. At this period Yeung was given marching orders. Then there was some dangerous play and just before the end the soldiers were awarded a penalty for hands. Harrison took the spot kick and made no mistake.

THIRD DIVISION

Fusiliers' Heavy Score

The Fusiliers third string ran riot yesterday when they scored six goals against the Royal Engineers without reply. Singleton the Welsh inside right played a great game and netted four goals including the "hat trick" and a penalty, while Thelard scored the other two goals. At half time the score was two nil. The winners netted four times in the second half.

R.A.S.C. v. E. Lances

The third division needle match was played off yesterday and produced football of a high standard. The game was very evenly contested in the first half and despite repeated efforts of both sets of forwards to secure the lead, there was no score at the interval.

After the breather the E. Lances asserted themselves and from a corner Crossley headed in to give them the lead. The Service Corps returned strongly to the attack but to no avail. Sandford rushed through to intercept a pass and while the Service Corps was appealing for offside he scored an easy goal to put matters beyond doubt for E. Lances.

Lincolns Beat R.A.O.C.

In a one-sided game Lincolns defeated the R.A.O.C. yesterday by four goals to one. Turnly and Day scored in the first half for the Lincolns and Gounlay in the second for the Ordnance Corps. Turnly scored in the second again and the Ordnance goalies allowed the fourth to go through.

Saturday's Games

SENIOR DIVISION

South China "A" must thank their lucky stars for having kept their 100 per cent record after their match with the Police on Saturday. Displaying a slight superiority over the Chinese the Police were playing classic football. Li Tin Sang at back was primarily responsible for warding off the Police attacks time and again and the Police intermediate line was machine-like with Parker keeping an effective watch on the Tso-Tam combination.

South China started off attacking through Fung and Tay but effective tackling on the part of Pile (Chris) and Co., nullified the Chinese efforts.

During the first half play was quickly transferred from one end to another with the odds in favour of the Police. At the other end Tam's shot just went over. Moss, obtaining possession, ran down the field and his shot resulted in a corner. From the kick Pile (T) passed to Stevens whose shot left Wong standing.

The Chinese attacked hotly but several shots went just off the mark. Eventually Wong Mee Shun evaded several players to send in to Fung who lobbed the ball into the goalmouth for Tam to head in.

Interval arrived with the score level and in the second stanza play was fast and exciting with the Police doing everything but score. South China's defence was badly rattled and the final whistle found both teams struggling.

The defence of the Club was responsible for the defeat of the China Athletics by the odd goal in three on the Club Ground on Saturday. From the start the Club forwards continued well, obtaining a half past six marker. Foster outstripped the Chinese defence and sent in a good shot from a difficult angle to beat Siu. After the resumption of play Skinner by dint of clever anticipation obtained possession and put Club two up. The Chinese attacked but Rodger was equal to the occasion. Howe and Bickford were prominent but the Athletic defences held their charges. A penalty against Club towards the end enabled Tang Kwong Sum to reduce the deficit.

East Lances and St. Joseph's played a very even, exciting and interesting game and resulted in a win by the College by the odd goal in three. On the run of the play a draw would have been a fitting result. The soldiers had more of the play territorially but the good work put in by the Saints' defence, especially Dellar at back, had their movements checked. Both defences were at the top of their form. During a Saints' raid on the soldiers' citadel Gorman handled and Costa made no mistake from the spot. The equaliser came during a scramble when the College custodian deflected the ball into his own goal in trying to clear. The decider came towards the end. Leonard receiving, shot but Gorman saved at the expense of a corner. Lee's shot was headed in by Leonard for the Saints to clinch both points.

South China "B" was totally surprised by the Artillery who emerged in their encounter by the score of 6 goals to two. With the exception of a few breakaways the Chinese were confined to their own half. The Gunners' forward line moved with precision, well led by Morton, while the defence played the best game up to date.

About 10 minutes from the interval Wong partly held a shot by Edmunds and Worthington rushing up tapped the ball into the net. Immediately after a centre by Edmunds was headed in by Knight. Wong made several good saves and just before the interval Lim Tak Po put the ball into his own goal. After the resumption Chow Kwan reduced the lead and a little later a shot of his was unlucky not to have found the net. Morton headed from a pass by Worthington and a penalty was awarded against the Gunners. Chow Kwan made no mistake. After this the Gunners were definitely on top doing as they liked and goals by Morton, Knight and Smith brought the tally to 6.

Kowloon and Fusiliers played a drawn game of two goals all. The Fusiliers were early shocked by a quick goal scored by G. White. Following this success Kowloon pressed but the Fusiliers' backs cleared in good style. In the first half the soldiers should have equalised when a hot shot by Dennis from close in was deflected by Morrison, who incidentally played a very destructive and spoiling game at back. After the interval, Fusiliers pressed continuously and their efforts were eventually rewarded when Roberts from right-outside scored a grand goal. Following some even exchanges Jones brought Kowloon up again and the Fusiliers were not long in equalising through Roberts.

SECOND DIVISION

South China had an easy day against Eastern on Saturday doing as they liked with little opposition forthcoming. Eastern could only field nine men at the start. Early on South China attacked and it was not long before Ip Noon Ling scored. Three more goals were scored in the first half by Ip and Lau (2) and Ip again scored after the resumption.

Displaying an all round superiority over the Varsity, the Kowloon Seconds emerged in their encounter with both points by three goals to one. Apart from occasional breakaways the Varsity was confined to their own half. O'Connell scored early on but their lead was only short-lived—Pope equalising following a clever movement. Just before the interval Pope scored again and during the second half Kowloon were on top; Foxham scored the third goal.

East Lances were too good for the Club and scored all their four goals in the first stanza indulging in fancy tactics and football practice throughout the second half finding no opposition in the Club at all. Eckenley, Bumister, Ridings and Thorpe were the scorers.

Navy defeated the China Athletics by three goals to one. From the start the Chinese attacked and the Navy's defence was badly rattled. The Navy's attack was very effective and they scored three goals in the first half and one in the second.

HOCKEY

The Interport Trial

A belated start was made in the Interport Hockey Trial yesterday morning on the Marina Ground, at 11.10 when several changes had to be made. Lieut. Comdr. Newson, and Flt. Lieut. Lascelles were absentees from the Whites team and Parker, Owen Hughes from the Colours.

The game started off with the Colours attacking but good clearances on the part of the backs staved them off. At the other end Divett sent Mackay off on the right, the latter's return was cleared. Following continued pressure, the Colours' forwards netted, Reeks scoring a great goal following a nice run down the left by Lal Singh.

Divett was almost through on his own when he was intercepted. Before the interval Hollingsworth rushed out to effect a clearance. Garthwaite met the ball and sent it back into an empty net. At the other end Awtar Singh with a chance of reducing the deficit fumbled and missed a good opportunity. Interval arrived with the score two in favour of Colours.

After the resumption Mackay and Hollingsworth changed places with Singh and Souza. More life was added to the game during this half, the Whites' defence was given a gruelling time but they managed to ward off the attacks. Many dangerous situations were relieved by W. A. Reed, and Souza brought off several well timed saves with his feet clearances. Towards the close Kartar Singh, running through on his own, cleverly eluded Rodrigues and sent in a first rate shot to beat Souza.

The defences

Of the defences U. B. Souza played a better game between the posts than Hollingsworth, his clearances and anticipations were uncanny and he allowed very little to get past him. Kahn, Bahadur was the pick of the backs with Lt. Rossier giving Rodrigues good support.

Whites' intermediate line was superb. The Reed brothers aided by Alf Din put in plenty of hard work but the Colours' forwards were on the top of their form. Gonzales had an easy day, Eric McVider was brought in at the last minute to fill up the left wing position and although he did not have much to do he sent in some nice centres. Dulla Singh at centre-half for the Colours played a very destructive game.

Of the Whites' forwards only Divett showed up well and even then he was inclined to be wild with his shooting. Awtar Singh was selfish at times with the result that his wings were starved.

and settled down to some clever football. O'Donnell scored with a shot that hit the upright and bounced into the net. Malles and Adams scored in the second half.

A very even game was witnessed between the Fusiliers and the Engineers who shared two goals. From the start the Engineers attacked and the Fusiliers' backs staved them off. Callard receiving from Howlett sent in a driver that had Saunders beaten.

The Fusiliers' equaliser came when Parry, receiving the ball just outside his own penalty area, made a fast dash down the right wing, beating Pegg on the run, and centred well in front of goal for Bumster to send in a first-time drive which Selleck had no chance of saving.

THIRD DIVISION

The match between the R.A.F. and the Radio Football Club was called off ten minutes before the end. Following a boxing bout between J. Tavares and Eyerson whom the referee ordered off the field, Tavares commenced to fight again just outside the touchline. Instead of separating, the Radio players joined in the fight and Eyerson was chased and hit about by the Radio players. When the trouble started, the Airmen were four goals up.

The R.A.M.C. lost to the Police by two goals in an even encounter. The soldiers had many opportunities to take the lead but poor shooting robbed them of it. Eventually the Police scored through Chan Chiu in each half.

Retrick was too good for the Railway and emerged winner by three goals to one. The Police played a good game and scored good support from Sgt. White. Campos, Lawrence and Santos scored for the Police and Fun Yui Shu for the Railway.

GOLD MINE IN CHINA

Mountain To Be Explored

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Jan. 13.

The Department of Reconstruction has decided to explore the gold mine in Big Abdomen Woman Mountain in Yan Ping County, 60 miles west of Kanton. A survey of the mountain had been made both by the Provincial Government and the exploring department of the First Group Army. Gold sands on the surface of the mountain have already been exhausted by the natives who dug out the gold by their hands. Many of them have become rich by working in the mine, and at one time the money changers in Yen Ping were exhausted of silver coins, because the miners exchanged gold for silver.

As it is thought that the mountain is rich in gold deposits, the Department of Reconstruction believes that exploitation can be properly done under government auspices. Machinery has been ordered from abroad for this purpose. The exploration will be made on a big basis, since it is necessary to go far beyond the surface. With scientific measures it is possible to achieve better results.

There are other gold mines in that vicinity and other parts of the province. Investigation is in progress so as to determine whether the mines hold sufficient gold deposits to justify exploitation.

Colours' front line played up well together. Lal Singh on the left was given good and proper watching by E. V. Reed and was more or less subdued. The rest of the forwards were well up to expectations.

FRIENDLY GAME

R.E.L. v. Y.M.C.A.

A friendly game was played between the Hong Kong Ladies and the "Y" Ladies at King's Park on Saturday the game resulting in a win for the former side by 3 goals to one.

Although the best players were unavailable due to the interport trial, the standard of the play was fairly high.

The "Y" Ladies had the lead first, when Miss P. McCaw scored in the very early part of the game, but just before the interval, Miss J. Churchill equalised.

The Hong Kong Ladies had most of the attack in the second half, in the course of which they scored two more goals through Miss Churchill and Miss Smalley.

MISSION TO EUROPE

To Study Military Methods

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Jan. 13.

Twelve members of the Military Mission left here to-day for Hong Kong and will board the Messageries Maritime liner Felix Roussel on Tuesday for Marseilles.

Leading members of this Mission include Lieut.-General Tao Yick-Him, Vice-President of the Yin Tong Military Academy, Lieut.-General Lam Sze Ching, Officer Commanding the Canton Gendarmerie, and Lieut.-General Wang Chut Man, Officer Commanding the Eighth Division. They will remain six months in Europe—two months in France, two months in Italy, and two months in Germany.

During the absence of General Lam Sze Ching, his post of Gendarmerie commander is taken over by Colonel Chen Shui, while his concurrent post in the Air Defence Committee is taken over by Brig.-General Tang Hao Ching, chief of the Central General Staff of the First Group Army.

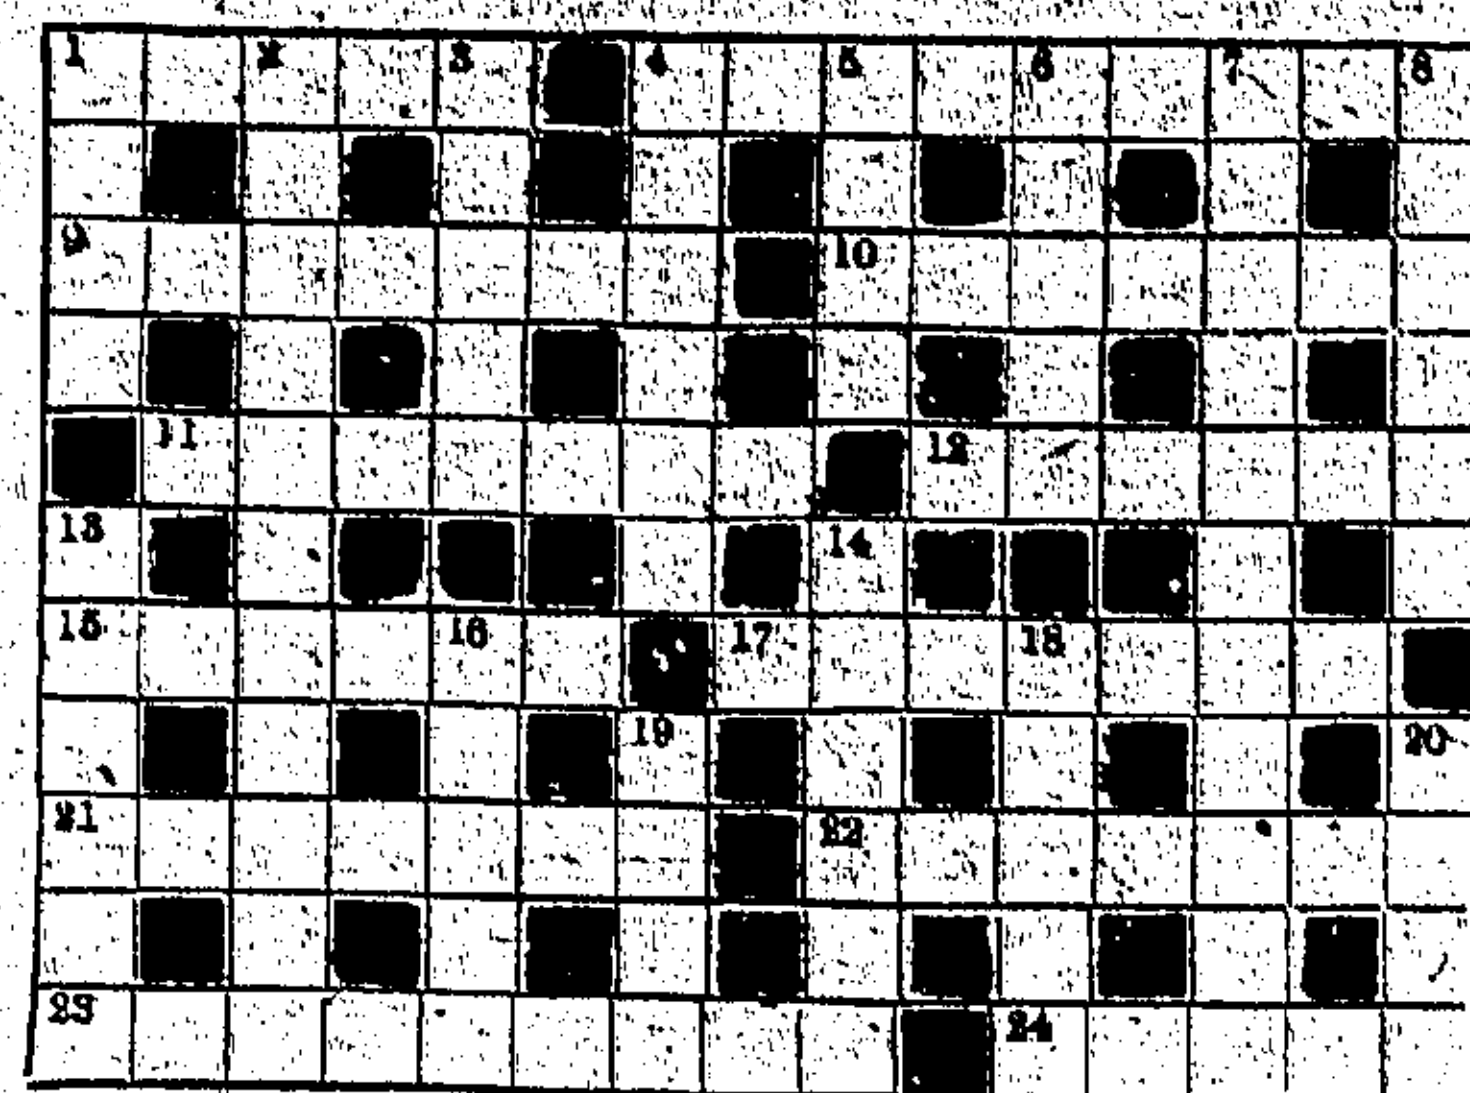

These senior officers will not enter military academies or staff schools, but will visit military depots, arms factories, barracks, and will make a general study of the situation. The object of this mission is to observe things on the spot, so that what they learn will be adapted to Canton. General Lam will interest himself in the air defence system in Paris, Berlin and Rome, and General Tao will find out how European military academies are organized.

MAMAK HOCKEY

The Kowloon Indians and the Engineers met on the Police Training School ground yesterday in the Mamak league and played a goalless draw. Both teams are in running for the Championship and excitement was high when the teams took the field.

Play was inclined to be rough and boisterous and the game was
